*To A Loving Mother
If Roses Grow In Heaven*

If roses grow in Heaven
Lord, please pick a bunch for me.
Place them in my Mother's arms
and tell her they're from me.
Tell her that I love her and miss her,
and when she turns to smile,
place a kiss upon her cheek
and hold her for awhile.
Because remembering her is easy,
I do it every day,
but there's an ache within my heart
that will never go away.

From, Your Loving Children

Reflections Of Life

Clara Mae Andrews was born May 24, 1944 to the parentage of Isaiah Harden and Lillian Duncklin Harden in Butler County, Alabama. She accepted Christ as a young girl at the Braggs Hill AME Zion Church in Greenville, under the leadership of Pastor Chattrina Ropper.

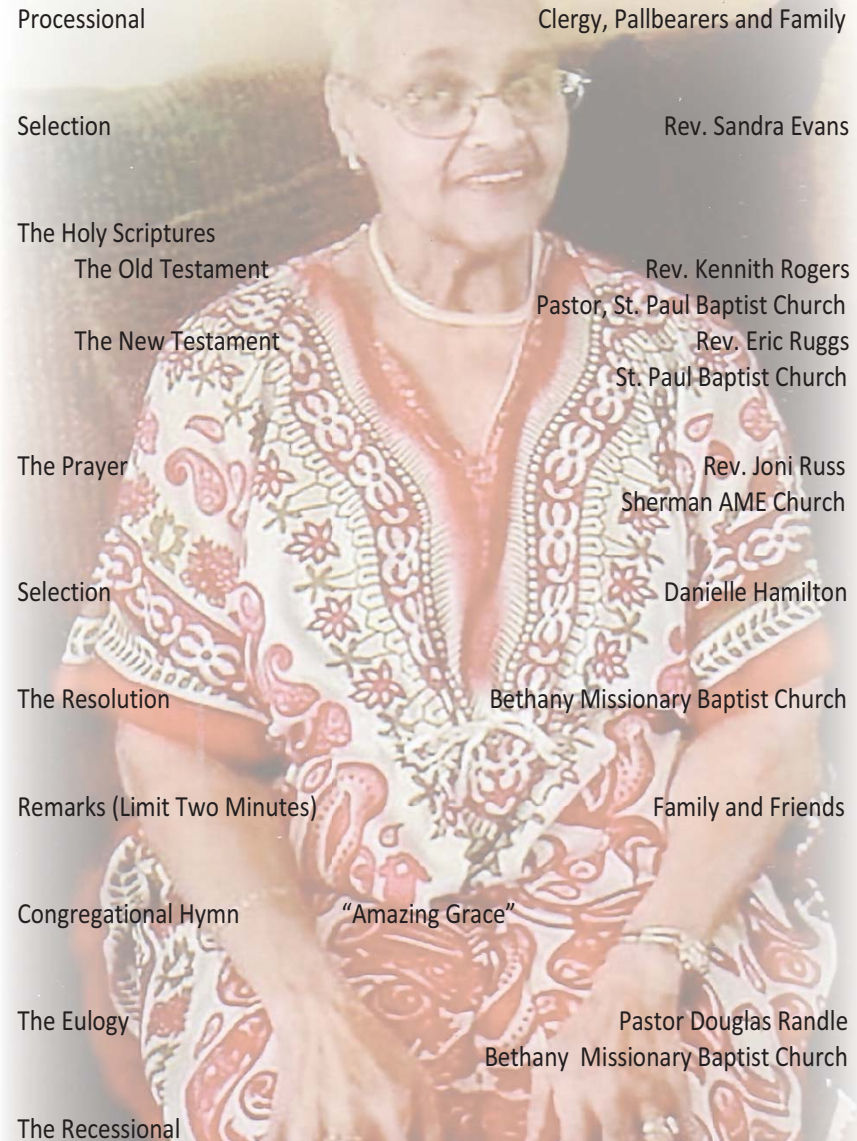

Clara received her formal education in the Mobile County School System in Mobile, Alabama. She went on to attend Mobile County Training School, where she earned her Cosmetology License. She also had an interest in becoming a Skilled Seamstress.

Clara married her best friend, neighbor and childhood sweetheart, Clarence Edward Andrews, Sr. on July 31, 1961. To this union four children, Clarence E. Andrews, Jr., Chauncey Andrews, Cornelius Andrews and the only girl, the baby, Celica M. Andrews were born. Clara was a loving wife and mother, caring for her family. She soon entered the workforce putting her skills to work as a Cosmetologist and Seamstress. Later years she broadened her career and was employed as a Substate Teacher in the Edgewood School District.

Clara took pride in serving the community and working with the PTA for all four of her children's schools. Most importantly Clara took great pride in being part of various committees such as, the Pastors Aide Committee for years at Joshua Baptist Church and later, Bethany Missionary Baptist Church where she served until she became ill and could not be as active. Clara was a loving person with a beautiful heart. We loved her but God Loved Her Best.

Clara was preceded in death by her husband, Clarence E. Andrews, Sr. and youngest son, Clarence L. Andrews. She leaves to cherish her memory two sons, Clarence E. Andrews, Jr., Chauncey L. Andrews and only daughter, Celica M. Andrews; grandchildren, Jaret, Kyle, Cambria, Sarah, Tyler, Bella and Andre Andrews; Godchildren; Curtis Smith, Vinetta Braunfield, L. S. Spencer, Pam and Carol Spencer and Tamaki Christian; her nephew and cousin, Dean Caldwell, Louis Dunklin and the entire Ruggs family, along with her faithful family and friends, Otha and Leslie Dupree and the mother of her grandchildren, Jocelyn Coleman Andrews.
