Celebration Of Life

LeAndru “LeLe” Higgenbottom, 64, of San Antonio, Texas, passed away on December 20, 2022 after a brief battle with lung cancer.

LeLe, as he was affectionately called, was born on May 4, 1958 to Joel and Dorothy Higgenbottom in Chicago, Illinois. He quickly established himself as the “jokester” of the family. He and his younger brother, Kevin, were famous/infamous for their escapades. He made lifelong friends in the Roseland Community. LeLe received his formal education attending Shedd Elementary, Bennett Elementary and Harlan High School in Chicago. He furthered his education attending Lindsey Wilson College in Columbia, Kentucky, and San Antonio College. LeLe accepted Christ at an early age at True Right Baptist Church where he was a member of the choir along with his mother and brother. At the time of his passing, LeLe was a member of True Vision Church, under the leadership of Pastor Michael Steve Brown, where he joined, in June 2018.

Following his completion of high school, LeLe joined the United States Army, where he served as an Administrative Clerk. As a young adult he lived in Paducah, Kentucky, Louisville, Kentucky and traveled overseas to Germany. LeLe’s friendly fun-loving attitude attracted people wherever he went. He loved to recount stories from his childhood in Chicago as well as varied life experiences. LeLe shared his stories of defeats as readily as he spoke of his triumphs. He stayed in continuous contact with friends and family. A visit with him was always just a phone call away. He was a prolific communicator and his conversations planted seeds and produced loving fruit.

LeLe had a passion for music and enjoyed singing. His favorite artist was Stevie Wonder. His taste in music was as eclectic as he was. He would often be heard singing R&B, gospel, old classics, jazz, rap, and sometimes used lyrics from some of his favorite songs to express his feelings. It was not uncommon to get a letter or text that included a song that reminded him of a loved one. In 2014, LeLe moved to San Antonio, Texas where he met, fell in love, and married his partner and best friend, Estella Hamilton. He often expressed his love for her by presenting her with cards, flowers, and gifts “just because”. Their tribute to each other was their favorite song, “I Promise To Love” by Kem.

LeLe was the proud father of three children, Sean, Latria, and LeAndrea. He was a loving grandfather to twenty grandchildren and numerous great grandchildren. He had a special love for Aisha, Chiffon, and T-Boz, whom he often called his daughters. LeLe was preceded in death by his parents, Joel and Dorothy Higgenbottom, and his brother, Kevin Higgenbottom. He leaves to mourn his passing, his wife, Estella Higgenbottom; his children, Sean Baker, Chicago IL, LeAndrea Parker (Terry), Paducah, KY, and Latria Hensley (Monte), Paducah, KY; siblings, Joel Higgenbottom, Jr., Lakeport, CA, Rosalie Mackey (Tony), Paducah, KY, Jo Lynne Haugh, San Antonio, TX and numerous nieces, nephews, and cousins.

LeLe, you’re the “Sweetest Somebody I Know,” We love you madly!

Tribute To Our Dad

Though we knew each other our whole lifetime and didn’t know each other our whole lifetime, I really appreciate these last times we had together. I love you.

-Your first born, your son, your “You”- Sean

I will forever love you, my amazing Dad. My A-1 since day 1, my ACE, my world. Missing you dearly, until we meet again, save me a dance. -Tria
